How our engagement works.

Three meetings, about two weeks, one flat fee. A look at each milestone — and what happens in our office between them.

The path from first call to signed portfolio is deliberately short and predictable. Here is what each stage asks of you, and what we handle on our side.

1 Consultation

You: share your circumstances on a complimentary thirty-minute call — your assets in broad strokes, your beneficiaries, and your concerns. Bring any existing estate documents. We: outline a path forward and quote a single flat fee in writing.

2 Design & drafting

You: confirm the key decisions — who serves as trustee and agents, who guards minor children, how assets should pass. We: prepare a plain-language summary first, then the documents themselves. You review; we revise.

3 Execution

You: come to the office to sign. We: provide witnesses and a notary, ensure every document is properly executed, and hand you a bound estate portfolio. Digital copies follow for your records.

After signing: funding

An executed trust still needs to be funded — eligible assets re-titled into its name and beneficiary designations updated where appropriate. We coordinate the deed for Florida real estate and walk you through the rest, so the plan actually does what it was designed to do. (See the “Funding Your Trust” guide.)

WHAT TO BRING TO THE FIRST CALL

A rough list of your assets and how they're titled, the people you'd name as trustee, agents, and guardians, and any estate documents you already have. Nothing needs to be polished — that's our job.

SCHEDULE A CONSULTATION

The conversation begins with a thirty-minute call.

Complimentary and confidential. We discuss your circumstances, outline a path forward, and quote a single flat fee in writing — before any work begins.
